Mission statement / consulting philosophy

Improving the organisation of business processes and its focus on a changing environment.

Consulting activities are offered in connection with complementary expertise. An acquisition is supported by market analysts, international lawyers and accountants in the negotiation stage. Furthermore we include dedicated disciplines such as labour and jurisdiction, human resources specialists and market research. Instead of looking for projects related to our personnel, we find outside sources of know-how related to our clients needs. We do this on a tailor made basis using hands-on experience.

OFFSHORE CRANE INDUSTRY

Corporate strategy organisation design and coordination of the whole complex project.

Restructuring an offshore crane firm owned by Incentive AB in The Netherlands, a Sweden based venture capitalist owned by Wallenberg. Ensuring a successful future through a management buy-out (MBO).

Analysing the firm, the competition and the future of the industry; showing that the existing structure of the firm would never meet the required standard of 20 % ROI; generating new opportunities for future development (focus on engineering, assembly and service activities instead of complete production of offshore platform cranes; outsourcing all steel-related production activities toward worldwide subcontractors); focusing on the restructuring solution by an MBO; development of new structure and strategy of the firm; negotiation between stakeholders/ coordination between contract parties and due diligence investigators, coordination of the varied specialists (lawyers, accountants, corporate finance experts etc.) and their results; developing new job descriptions and helping renew the human resources; major consulting during the whole change process including the change of ownership. The result is favourable for the former owner as well as for the new «stand alone» firm which is very competitive and profitable in its niche.

LEADING PACKAGING INDUSTRY

Corporate strategy, merger & acquisition and human resources activities

Creating break-up value of a Dutch packaging group by developing and implementing a sale of divisions to strategic buyers

Evaluation of the strategy of the group; visualising the limits of the existing holding structure of this group and showing advantages of a focused and careful restructuring; developing synergies and attractive opportunities for the future success of the different units (flexible packaging systems, folding carton division, packaging machinery systems, adhesive division) within the group by considering cooperation with specialised firms outside the group; search for relevant European partners; initiating contacts and opening relevant negotiations; coordination of the due diligences (lawyers, accountants, corporate finance consultants, environmental experts etc.); carrying out two management buy-outs and the sale of units to six contract parties. The results are a clear future for each unit of the former holding and the creation of a break-up value of 80 million Euro.
